[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 5.

Final Argument in Impeachment.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—In the Senate after reading the journal Bingham commenced the final argument for the prosecution, protesting that he took part in the proceedings from no partisan feelings, but with the weighty sense of their solemnity and true meaning. He proceeded to sketch events attendant on the assassination of President Lincoln and the accession of Andrew Johnson to the Presidency. Referring to his oath to execute the laws, he spoke of their majesty and supremacy in our form of government, and claimed that the President was equally subject to their authority with the humblest frontier settler. He dwelt on the high trust committed to the Senate, and asserted that issues of life and death to the republic hung on their decision. He said the responsibility of deciding this issue rests on the Senate. It cannot be divided with any human being outside of the Senate. The Senate has the whole power to try impeachment and must of necessity be clothed with every power to decide all questions of law and fact. It has been attempted by counsel on the other side to allow that this is not so. They would like it, may be supposed, to have Andrew Johnson decide this question as they say he has the right to do all others. His colleague, Butler, in opening this case had called this body a Senate instead of a Court, and the counsel tried to make a point out of this. It was easy to see that this was done with a view of turning the attention of the Senate from the real issue; but he would not waste time and strength on trifles like these, which were light as air. He would not follow counsel on either side, especially the gentleman from New York (Evarts), in his intellectual pyrotechnics. [Laughter.] He would deal in such arguments as would bring conviction to the mind of every man.

Referring to the length of Evarts' speech, Bingham said he supposed it was the impression of some men that to make a speech immortal it was necessary to make it eternal. [Laughter.] It had been stated by counsel on the other side that all questions arising under the Constitution of the United States must be decided by the Supreme Court. That was a very broad proposition. There was many questions which could not, in the nature of things come before the Supreme Court, though they arise under the Constitution. For instance the Senator from Illinois or any other State, if his right to a seat here was disputed, did not go with his case to the Supreme Court; that must be decided by this body, to which he was elected. He read from the decision of Chief Justice Marshall to show that it was the duty of the heads of departments to obey the laws, not to take commands of the President instead of this. The decision shows that neither the President nor his heads of departments are above the laws.

Bingham cited the case of the Fugitive Slave bill, which though it was repugnant to every sense of justice, a bill which made chattels of men, a bill for which even God seemed to stand silent, a bill which forbade us to give shelter to the homeless, a bill which made us violate the command of our divine Master, when he says give a cup of cold water to him who is ready to perish, a bill which Daniel Webster said he believed to be outside the Constitution, a bill which caused Margaret Garner, in the streets of Cincinnati, flying from the officers of the law, to forget her motherly instincts and to send to its account before its time the babe of her bosom rather than allow it to be flung back to the hell of slavery, a bill which nevertheless, the people obeyed when they stood by and saw Anthony Burns rattle in chains under the shadow of Bunker Hill where rest the first martyrs of our American liberty, a bill which under all these circumstances the American people obeyed until it was repealed.

The Senate took a recess of 15 minutes. After recess Bingham resumed his argument. He referred to that provision of the Constitution which says every bill which shall have passed Congress shall, before it becomes a law, be sent to the President. The language of the Constitution is, it shall become a law after it has gone through the process prescribed by the Constitution. The argument of the gentlemen on the other side is, it shall not be a law. To prove this they brought forward their small arms as well as their heavy artillery, and say it must be in accordance with the Constitution. So it must, but who is to decide that question? Not the President, certainly, for he is not a judicial but an executive officer. If the President may dispense with one act of Congress, why may he not dispense with all? At four o'clock the Court adjourned, leaving Mr Bingham's speech unfinished.

Another "Herald" Story.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Herald's Washington dispatch states that Senator Fessenden has prepared an opinion that there are no grounds shown in evidence or in argument justifying the conviction of the President, and that Morrill offered an adverse opinion but failed to convince Fessenden. Several other Senators are reported to have followed Fessenden's example.

It is now stated that a new party, headed by Chase for President against General Grant, is to be immediately formed by Fessenden, Henderson, Trumbull and other moderate Republicans.

"Question of Privilege."

WASHINGTON, May 4.—In the House, Windom of Minnesota rose to a question of privilege, which was understood to be a resolution censuring Washburne of Illinois, for writing an abusive letter to Folsom about his (Windom's) colleague, Donnelly.

Washburne asked leave to offer a resolution. The Speaker said the gentlemen would postpone offering resolutions until after the return from the Senate. The members then proceeded to the Senate.

CHICAGO, May 5.—In the House last night, Windom moved a resolution appointing a committee of seven, to investigate the charges made by Washburne in his letter against Donnelly, with power to send for persons and papers, which was adopted after a lengthy debate generally conducted in a good natured manner. Washburne and Donnelly each apologized for their language of Saturday, and withdrew their offensive expressions.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The North German steamer Schmidt, from Bremen, arrived to-day.

The Atlantic Base Ball Club made its first appearance this season, beating an excellent field of nine.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—The steamer Arabia bound to Fort Benton, sunk opposite Atchison this morning. She is a total loss. No lives lost.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—In the House, Windom rose to a question of privilege, which is understood to be a resolution concerning Washburne.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, May 4—midnight.—There was a very full house at the opening of the session in the House of Commons to-night. The Prince of Wales and Prince Christian of Schleswig Holstein were among the distinguished visitors present.

The Premier and Gladstone were loudly cheered as they entered and took their seats. After some unimportant business, Disraeli rose and was greeted with cheers from the ministerial benches. He reviewed the course of the Tory administration, which at the outset was without a majority of supporters in the House, and spoke of its uniform success, which was so entire indeed that even its opponents acknowledged it, and on the occasions when Lord Derby expressed a wish to resign, they urged him to remain in office. Financially its record was as faultless. In foreign affairs Lord Stanley has raised the prestige of the nation vastly, preserving peace with the Continent and with the great Republic in the West, and in Ireland the Ministry have triumphed at every point, and at the same time have conciliated the people, while in Abyssinia a great deed of arms for humanity had reflected credit not only to the officers and soldiers engaged, but also to the Ministry who planned it.

Thursday last, upon the vote on the first of a series of resolutions, the Ministry encountered a new question which threatened confusion to Ireland, and ultimately the overthrow of the English Church, the effect of which would be that all would be absorbed by the Church of Rome. To this measure he could not assent, and he had asked the House to advise with the Queen on the new attitude of affairs. Her Majesty had heard his statement and not only declined his resignation but urged him not to dissolve Parliament at present, until an appeal could be made to new constituents. This he hoped to do with the aid of the House. Her Majesty deprecates the urgency with which Gladstone pressed his resolutions and hoped that the suspension of the order of the day would not be pressed now. He was willing to give some other member of the Government the right to carry on the discussion, if debate there must be.

Mr Gladstone said the Premier's praise of the tories was not only in bad taste but untrue, and especially that portion respecting the finances. Lord Derby he remarked, was not asked to stay in office in [illegible]. Gladstone doubted whether the eulogium passed by the Premier was a challenge to the opposition or a sop to the tories to persuade them to remain in office. He laughed at the cry of danger to the established church and at the idea that the Church of Rome would absorb all other sects. It was unprecedented that a ministry which had been beaten by sixty five majority, should talk of dissolving Parliament. It might be right to elect a new Parliament to settle this question of the Irish church. [illegible] when chosen, would but settle the ministry itself. Their previous course was unconstitutional. The House was hostile to the ministry, and yet the Premier wanted to govern the country until the fall. Meantime the fate of Ireland and other great questions would remain in suspense. The duty of the Liberals was to follow up resolutions with a suspensory bill thus clearing the way for a new Parliament. They must go on. They had no bargain to make. The Premier had said nothing that would change the purposes of the ministry. He (Gladstone) would therefore urge a suspension order as his right, or if the ministry would not allow it then at the earliest possible day, to [illegible] the resolves. If they passed the House a bill should follow suspending appointments in the Irish church.

Robert Lowe said: After the Ministers had nullified the will of the House they had better ask for control for [illegible] to come, of the Government. Such a course was unconstitutional and absurd. Were the legislative and executive distrusting each other to maintain a show of amity until next year?

John Bright said the premier's statement would amaze the country. He asked the House to examine the usage of the Constitution that he might keep the office if it is not the most worthy and held by adopting the dogmas which he had bitterly denounced. Bright showed the inconsistency of the tories and the various differences of factions and said the adverse suit was no disgrace to the Ministry, but to hold office after such a vote there was [illegible] Disraeli who knew well enough that no Irish or Scotch [illegible] the Irish and Scotch liberals [illegible] pass the [illegible]

It was then fixed the [illegible] of May for debate on the Irish Church question. The House [illegible] then took up the budget.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The Golden City which sailed for Panama this morning took 436 passengers and $610,383 in treasure.

The steamship [illegible] went out with a party to escort Captain Hartshorne to the Heads, and a salute was fired from Broadway Wharf.

The steamship Fulton, of Webb's opposition line via Panama sailed yesterday from New York with 700 passengers and full freight for California.

E. Z. C. Judson, otherwise Ned Buntline, is expected to arrive this week from New York. He comes under an engagement to lecture for the order of the Sons of Temperance.

The bark [illegible] from Port Blakely with lumber while entering the harbor last evening was carried by the current on to Mile Rock where she lay for an hour. She was got off with the loss of her larboard anchor and about 30 fathoms of chain. The damage to the vessel is slight.

The Oregonian will be the next opposition steamer for Panama, to sail May 20th. She will be followed by the Nebraska June 5th.

Sallie Henry, formerly a waiter girl, made a determined attempt on her own life last evening. She first took a dose of laudanum, but this failing in the effect desired she stabbed herself. It is thought that her wound is not fatal.

Monetary.

Legal tenders, 71¼@72.

New York quotations of gold yesterday, 139¼.

Markets.

Wheat, in New York, quiet but steady at $3 15@3 20.

Flour steady at $12 25@14.

The Panama steamer this morning carried about 5,000 bbls flour in transit to New York, mainly on owner's account. We quote city mills, superfine hf sacks, $6 25@6 50, qr sacks, $6 50@6 75; extra hf sacks, $7@7 25, qr sacks, $7 25@7 50.

Wheat—Sales include 2,000 sacks Oregon in lots, private; we quote the market quiet at $2 25@2 30 at the close. 1,000 sacks good shipping at $2 25.

Barley—We note a slightly improved demand; sales of 300 sacks feed, $1 40; 400 sacks brewing, $1 50; buyers are of opinion that the market has reached its level.

Oats—Sales include 300 sks fair at $2 12½; 334 sks good, $2 25. The range of the market is $2 20@2 50, the outside figure being considered a nominal quotation for jobbing lots from store.

Shipping.

Arrived—May 5, ship Helios from Seattle; bark Milan, from Lookalet; bark Adelaid Cooper from Port Ludlow. May 6, bark Ocean from Port Blakely; ship Dublin, from Madison; bark Kutusoff, from Port Gamble.

Cleared—May 6th, ship Shooting Star, for Nanaimo; brig Brewster, for Portland.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

[From the Olympia Transcript, May 2.]

No appropriation having been made yet by Congress, we presume there will be but little surveying of the public lands this summer. There are two parties out on the east side of the Cascades, and two or more on this side, all having small contracts, using up the balance of last year's appropriation.

The party of prospectors to the Black Hills returned on last Saturday evening, and report nothing found to justify them in remaining longer. They found a little "color" in places, the same as can be panned out anywhere in the streams half a mile from Olympia, but not enough to pay to work.

We are informed that Ordnance-Sergeant Archibald, who had been left in charge of Fort Steilacoom on the withdrawal of the troops, died suddenly on Friday morning last. He has been a long time in the army, and had become a sort of a fixture at the garrison. He had charge of removing the baggage and stores of the troops to the steamer, and when the excitement was over, returning to the quiet and desolation of the post, the effect was too great for the poor old soldier.

Some parties in town, a few days ago, took a notion to prospect for dog fish oil, and accordingly made a trip to Oyster Bay and spread their lines. They were quite successful, having caught one hundred and seventy seven fish at the first set, and in a few hours time. Returning, large preparations were made, and they have again gone to the fishing ground.

We understand that Mr. R. R. Haines, telegraph superintendent, has made arrangements for a telegraph station on the Cowlitz Prairie, at M. Chappelier's. The office will be in operation on the first of May, John Cutting operator.

The launch of Williamson's new schooner, called the Clara Light, at Steilacoom, will take place next Friday, the 8th inst.

The steamer Oriflamme took away 1,250 tons of freight from Steilacoom, belonging to the troops, for Alaska.

Mr. H. C. Hale has placed in our hands a piece of the Continental paper money of Massachusetts, of 1779. It is of two shillings value, and one side of it is the emblematic pine tree, by which that money was distinguished. Upon the opposite side, is the obligation of the State to redeem the money, "agreeable to an act of the general court." We shall file the old legal tender carefully away in memory of the olden time.

A correspondent at Seattle sends the following account of a murder at Port Blakely, under date of April 30th.

Yesterday a horrible murder was committed at Port Blakely on board the bark Moriana. It appears that Mr. Butler, the first officer, about the middle of the afternoon, during an altercation with Mr Smith the stevedore, applied a very opprobrious epithet to him. Smith remarked that after six o'clock he would fit him (Butler) out. After six o'clock P. M., while Mr Butler was leaning over the bows, directing the men in adjusting the ship's moorings, Smith came up behind Mr Butler and struck him a heavy blow on the back of the head. Mr B. sprang to his feet and fell backwards, when Smith dealt him another blow, crushing his skull and mangling his face horribly. Mr Butler never spoke, but died immediately. The prisoner was taken to Port Madison for examination. Several of the crew were witnesses of the foul deed, but none were near enough to prevent it.

The bark Lenore, at Port Blakely, finished loading on the 30th.

A letter from Bellingham Bay contains the following:

"The work at the coal mines here is going ahead rapidly. The pump they have now will take the water out to the upper gangway in six weeks. They intend to put a double track down the slope, and if the old works can be walled in, if the fire should break out again, they will sink 500 feet lower in the same slope. They are also boring for the outcrop away back, and as soon as they find it they will open a slope on an extensive scale. They are preparing to build new chutes and a new wharf about 500 yards lower down the bay than the old one. A number of men are busy clearing and grading for the track. There will be a great amount of work done here this year. * * * * If you know of any steady men wanting work this is the place for them, particularly if they have families."

At the recent annual town meeting held at Northampton, Mass., two negroes, by public vote were placed on the jury list. One of them is a son of a Maryland ex-slave, whose father took an early liking to a more northern latitude, and the other was a slave five years ago, of whom at that time could not read or write, but has since become tolerably proficient in the English branches. It is a significant fact that the proposition to place the names of the two colored men on the list came from the Hon. Charles Delano, a former member of Congress, and who during the first half of Mr. Lincoln's term, was such a constant voter with the Border State members that his constituents concluded that he had mistaken the sentiment of Massachusetts for that of Tennessee.

A bank officer went to a prominent lawyer in New York and said:

"I am a defaulter to the tune of $100,000. I have not been detected. What shall I do?" [illegible] the lawyer [illegible] and take another [illegible]. [illegible] when the lawyer wrote to the Directors that his client had taken $200,000, but would return one half of it if the affair was hushed up. The Directors took the half loaf.

A Specious Plea Overthrown.

When General Sherman was called as a witness before the Court of Impeachment on the 13th of April he testified that the President had offered him the appointment of Secretary of War ad interim in January last. Anxious to avoid being drawn into controversy, Sherman asked the President why the lawyers could not make a case and have the matter brought before the courts. Mr. Johnson replied that "it was impossible; a case could not be made." He was determined to remove Mr Stanton, and was looking for some one to appoint in his place. General Sherman declined the appointment and Lorenzo Thomas was sent to supersede Stanton. By Sherman's testimony it is rendered clear that the object of the President in making the removal was not to test the constitutionality of the law, but to get Stanton out regardless of the law. Manager Bingham commented with great force on the facts which were elicited from General Sherman, entirely overthrowing the pretense set up by the counsel that the President had acted solely with a design of having the law tested, and pointing out the course he should have taken had he desired to test the law in the courts. He said:

If I heard the testimony which fell from the witness, it is testimony which utterly disappointed and confounded the counsel. What was it? Nothing was said in the conversation about an appeal to the courts, and finally it was said by the President that it was impossible to make up a case by which to appeal to the courts. The declarations of the President, standing in due form, yet not satisfactory to the counsel, are brought, to be sure, on a question from the honorable Senator from Maryland; but that is not satisfactory to the counsel, and now they tell the Senate that they have a right to cross examine their own witness. For what purpose? In search of truth they say. Well, it is in search of truth [illegible] difficulties. [Laughter.] Witness has already sworn to matters of fact that show the utter falsity of this defense introduced here by the President, that his only purpose in violating the law was to test the validity of the law in the Courts. Why did not he test the validity of the laws in the Courts? It will not do to say to the Senate of the United States that he has [illegible] for it by telling the witness that a case could not be made up. The learned gentleman who has just taken his seat is too familiar with the law of the country, too familiar with the able [illegible] tions in that very case in the Supreme Court, to venture to endorse for a moment these utterances of his client, made to the Lieutenant General, that it was impossible to make up a case. I stand here to assert what the learned gentleman knows, that all that was needful to make up a case was for the President to do what he did do in the first instance, issue an order to Mr. Stanton to surrender the office of Secretary of War to Gen. L. Thomas; to surrender the records and papers of the office to him, and in the discharge [illegible] of the Secretary, or his refusal to obey the order [illegible] to exercise the authority vested in the President, [illegible] alone, through his Attorney General, who now appears as his attorney in the trial in [illegible] of this case, and issue out this writ of quo warranto. That the law which we undertake to say is [illegible] in the case of Wallace, 5th Wheaton, the opinion of the court being delivered by Chief Justice Marshal, no member of the Court dissenting, it was declared by the Chief Justice, as the opinion of the Court that a writ of quo warranto could not be maintained, except at the instance of the government; that the power, therefore, was vested in the Attorney General. Let the President [illegible] answer in some other way than by this [illegible] sought to be reached by a cross-examination of their own witness. We protest against the attempt that has been made here to cross examine this witness to get rid of a matter already stated so truthfully by a witness, which [illegible] against their client, strips him naked for the [illegible] hand of justice to reach him, without let or hindrance.

Mr. Evarts. On inquiry of the President by the Lieutenant General whether the lawyers could not make up a case without an ad interim appointment, the President said it could not be done; but when there was an ad interim appointment, it could not stand half an hour.

Mr Bingham. I desire to respond to the remark very briefly, that instead of the counsel for the President bettering his client's case, he has made it worse by an attempt to explain the declarations of the President to the witness as to its being impossible to make up a case without an ad interim appointment. But how does the case stand? Has not the President made the ad interim appointment three months before the conversation with the Lieutenant General? Had he not made the ad interim appointment of General Grant in August, 1867? Oh, say the gentlemen, he only suspended Mr Stanton then under the Tenure of Office Act, therefore the [illegible] could be very well raised. I have no doubt that will be the answer of the counsel, and it is all the answer they can make. But, gentlemen, Senators, how does such an answer agree with that put in here by the President, that he did not make that suspension under the Tenure of Office Act, but under the Constitution of the United States, and by virtue of power vested in him by that Constitution. He cannot play fast and loose that way in the presence of the Senate and the people of the United States. Why did he not sue out his writ of quo warranto in August last, when he had his appointment of Secretary of War ad interim? Why did he not go then into the courts forestalling the power of the people to try by impeachment for the violation of law, which by the law of every country, where common law obtains, carries the criminal intent with it on its face, and which he cannot drive from the record by any false statement, nor swerve from the record in any shape or form by any mere declaration of his own.

Now, one word more, and I have done with this matter. He tells General Thomas that they have got evidence. Now they want to contradict that evidence; to say that after Stanton refused to obey the Thomas order, and after he ordered Thomas to go to his own place and Thomas refused, he tells Thomas, I say, not that he was going into the courts; not that he should apply to the Attorney General for a writ of quo warranto. Then there was no intimation of that sort, but there was a declaration of the accused to Lorenzo Thomas, on the night of the first of February, after he had committed this crime against the laws and Constitution of his country, that Thomas would go on and take possession of his office and discharge his functions as Secretary of War ad interim.

MATILDA.—The Boston Post thinks that the classic London Spectator makes a curious slip when it speaks of Matilda Griggs, who was stabbed by a lover to whom she had borne a child in thirteen places.

The Spirit which Wins

The spirit with which the Union men of New Hampshire worked during the late exciting canvass in that State, should be emulated by our party in Oregon. The secret of their success lay in the complete and efficient organization which enabled them to work systematically and in such a manner that no effort was lost. Such was the efficiency of their organization that they took the lead in the canvass, got the start on election day, and held their advantage to the end. The New Hampshire Statesman (Concord) tells how it was done:

Probably the people of Concord never went to the polls so early and in such large numbers as on Tuesday. In the Fourth Ward, several hundreds were in the house at the opening of the polls, and half the whole vote was probably taken during the first hour. It was somewhat so in other wards. And the Republicans were, if possible, more wide awake than the Democrats, for of the first hundred ballots taken in Ward Four, nearly or quite ninety were cast by Republicans! There were no laggards that day. The whole vote of the city is nearly four hundred greater than that given last March.

This is the spirit which wins. Activity, energy, determination, seconded by complete organization by which the party strength may be known and brought to bear advantageously, are elements which contribute in the most powerful manner to success in elections. The Union party of Oregon has never yet been sufficiently aroused to the importance of this fact. Political campaigns have been carried on in a [illegible] or desultory manner, and there has been almost a total want of systematized effort. At this time every man has a work to do. No true friend of the Union who has adhered to the cause through all its reverses and triumphs, is doing his duty if he is not actively [illegible] his influence for the great final triumph of the Union party. For on the elections of this year hangs the fate of all we have contended for since the beginning of 1861. Let none hang back, or like laggards, perform their duty in a mechanical and spiritless manner. We must not undervalue the prestige of victory in the State election now near at hand. To Union men we commend the following from the Stockton Independent:

Let it be, then, that no part of your duty be slighted. Let every man go on guard. Inside and outside sentinels must remain wide awake at their posts. The hour calls for action. Keep the fires burning brightly, that the unfortunate soldiers who have been deceived and pressed into the service of the enemy may find their way to our camp, and enroll in our sacred cause. Meet them half way, and explain to them the necessity of upholding those principles upon which the Republican organization is based, and by the triumph of which principles our nationality and liberties may be preserved. If the price of liberty is eternal vigilance, let us pay that price cheerfully. Let us count delinquency as dishonest.

Significant Reminiscence.

When the subject of impeachment was under consideration in the House, Hon Wm D. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, called attention to the fact that on the 1st of January, 1861, a few days after the departure from the War Office of that eminent "Democratic" leader, John B. Floyd, to serve under the "white man's government of President Davis," President Buchanan appointed Hon. Joseph Holt to perform the duties of Secretary of War "until a successor should be appointed or the vacancy filled," and that a Democratic Senator, Slidell of Louisiana, introduced a resolution calling upon the President to state whether Floyd had resigned, and if so, who filled his office, and by what tenure, and why the appointment had not been communicated to the Senate. The resolution was in the words as follows:

Resolved, That the President be requested to inform the Senate whether John B. Floyd, whose appointment as Secretary of War was confirmed by the Senate on the 6th of March, 1857, still continues to hold said office; and if not, when and how said office became vacant; and further to inform the Senate how and by whom the duties of said office are now discharged; and if an appointment of an acting or provisional Secretary of War has been made, how, when, and by what authority it was so made, and why the fact of said appointment has not been communicated to the Senate.

This resolution, implying a doubt of the constitutionality of such an appointment, even in the case of a notorious vacancy, was adopted by the vote of every Democratic Senator on the floor except one, Mr. Saulsbury of Delaware. Mr. Kelley continued

On the 15th of the same month the President sent in his response, informing the Senate that the appointment ad interim had been made under the act of February 13, 1795, and that "the power to carry on the business of the Government by means of a provisional appointment when a vacancy occurs is expressly given" by that act. But anxious, as he evidently was to strengthen his position by his historic precedents, he was unable to show a case in which a President had so far violated the Constitution as to attempt to create a vacancy by removal while the Senate is in session and fill it by an ad interim appointment, as Andrew Johnson has done, with the evident approval of the Democratic members of the House.

This is another convincing proof of the usurpative character of the act for which Andrew Johnson is now arraigned before, and awaiting the decision of, the United States Senate.

The Copperhead papers are dreadfully excited over the fact that a few of the members of the Southern Legislatures are colored men. They were most painfully shocked once before when the Government proceeded to arm the blacks to put down the treason of the Southern Democracy. Speaking of colored legislators we may add that the aristocratic city of Boston which gave about two thousand "Democratic" majority last fall elected two of the blackest kind of negroes to the Massachusetts Legislature.

Governor Woods will address the people of Yamhill county on political topics on Saturday, May 16th, at Lafayette. We learn that preparations are making for a grand rally. It is expected that "all Yamhill" will be present on the occasion.

Hon J H Mitchell will address the Union Club at Forest Grove, Washington county, on Saturday May 16th, at 3 o'clock P M. An able speech may be expected, and all, ladies included, are invited to be present.

[illegible]

Judge Stout spoke last evening at Oro Fino Hall to a thin audience. The speech was moderate in tone for these times, when so many Democrats are panting for war. A portion of the speaker's efforts were devoted to a reply to Gov. Woods' speech of the evening before. Judge Stout took exceptions to the statement that the secessionists of 1860-1 were all democrats. He was positive they were not, and to prove it he named some of them who had been whigs, forgetting, however, to add that after the downfall of the Whig party in 1852 they had joined the "Democracy." The speaker was very sure his party had nothing to be ashamed of. They wanted to let by-gones be by-gones for the sake of peace and harmony. The Republicans treasured up malice against the secessionists. This was wrong. The Democrats were willing to forget the John Brown raid if their opponents would be equally magnanimous toward the Southern rebels. This was a good hit, considering that the John Brown rebels were all hanged, while no Southern rebel has been punished or deprived of any right whatever. Gov. Woods had visited the national cemetery at Arlington Heights where sixteen thousand Union soldiers were buried, and had in the presence of that army of the dead taken a new vow to work for the principles of his party. This was sacrilege. Those soldiers were deceived. They were led into the army on false pretences. If it had been told them that the "Radical" party would do what it has done they would never have taken arms for the Union. And if those sixteen thousand soldiers who sleep on Arlington Heights could now know what the "Radical Congress" is doing, they would leap from their graves and hurl that body from the Capitol. The Judge, however, did not stop to explain why it is that the million surviving soldiers of the war are a unit in support of this same "Radical Congress." He thought the Union party had nothing to brag over in their claim of having saved the country. When he thought of the widows and orphans and the destruction of Southern property and the great national debt, he could not rejoice. The probable reason is that his conscience smote him from a knowledge that his party had caused this unhappy state of things. In vindication of his party he, however, stated that it was now what it had always been. Its principles were unchanged. These statements naturally carried the minds of his audience back to Buchanan's time when the "time-honored principles" allowed a State to secede and affirmed that the Government had no power to prevent it. Passing to finances, the Judge presented Pendleton's scheme to his audience, taking care, however, to omit to mention that it was repudiated by the Eastern section of his party. He then argued in favor of the taxation of United States bonds,—as a politician presenting an argument which we will do him the credit of believing he would, as a lawyer, have been heartily ashamed of. The rest of the speech was devoted mainly to the negro, a subject which those who have listened to any extent to Democratic speakers will agree is somewhat overworn.

Last year the Herald announced the result of the election at Oregon City in these words:

J R Ralston, (Democrat) was elected Mayor of Oregon City yesterday, over a Republican competitor.

That paper reprints this statement, and immediately after it has the impudence to say that it did not claim the election of Ralston last year "as a party triumph." It adds

At the recent election party lines were more closely drawn in view of the immediately pending State and county elections, beside, after Mr. Ralston's election a strong Republican precinct was added to the city to guard against subsequent accidents of the kind.

No precinct has been added to the city since last year. Such a thing could not be done without an act of the Legislature, and there has been no session of the Legislature since 1866. Observe, however, the statement that the election of a Democratic Mayor at Oregon City last year was not claimed as a party victory, followed by the remark that a strong Republican precinct was added to the city after that election "to guard against subsequent accidents of the kind,"—that is, to guard against future Democratic triumphs. Thus the Herald, in its efforts to belittle the Union victory at Oregon City contradicts itself three or four times in the same article. The present Union majority in Oregon City is larger than that obtained at any previous election in which there was any contest. In 1862, Ralston ran as the Democratic candidate for Mayor and was beaten by but 18 votes, now the average Union majority is 26.

Editing a Newspaper.—It is comparatively an easy task for a frothy writer to pour out daily columns of words which have no meaning. His ideas may flow in one weak, washy, everlasting flood, and his command of language may enable him to string them together like onions, and yet his paper may be a meagre, poor concern.

We clip the above from an article published in yesterday's Herald. Nothing could be more appropriate than its publication in that paper. We'll wager that the author of this paragraph, whoever he may be, had just been reading Beriah's paper; else how could he have described its characteristics so well?

When a motion was made in the Illinois Democratic State Convention to instruct in favor of Pendleton for President, a delegate named Springer protested against it, saying he had "just returned from the East, and he knew there was an antagonism to Pendleton there which would result in the demoralization of the party, if he was forced on his opponents." It is clear from the tone of the press that this antagonism has deepened and spread since the speech of Gov. Seymour. Let the music go on. Those of the "Democracy" who do not like to dance, can, of course, take back seats.

The Courier has an article lamenting that the negroes are allowed to vote in South Carolina. The burden of lamentation seems to be that Jasper don't know but he will go to that State sometime, and that a negro Governor may be in office who will refuse him an appointment as Notary Public. Shouldn't wonder, as it is certain that any number of negroes can be found there whose qualifications for the office are every way superior to those of this expectant applicant.

The Helena (Montana) Herald claims that the population of that place is fully 11,000. Four years ago the ground on which the city stands was a barren waste.

The Oregon City Election

OREGON CITY, May 6, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN

One or two little points relating to our election may be worth notice. The "Democracy" placed on their ticket the names of several Union men, two of whom were out of the city, one being at San Francisco, and thus attempted to steal votes—all of which signally failed. Union men thus disgraced by being coupled with the copperheads, were not responsible, and your reference by name to the Democratic ticket might lead to a false impression in regard to some of them.

The Herald, with its usual disposition to misstate, says in Wednesday's paper "After Mr Ralston's election, a strong Republican precinct was added to the city, to guard against subsequent accidents of the kind." The facts upon which the Herald betrays its ignorance are simply these. To accommodate the growing town at Oswego, Linn City precinct was divided, and a few voters just across the river were added to this precinct. But any one not a fool, would know that this change only applies to votes for county, District and State officers. The city vote is not changed in any way, except that we have gained some Democratic votes. If this precinct had all voted, our majority would have been very much more.

FROM IDAHO.

Chief Justice McBride has resigned and forwarded his resignation to Washington. The Statesman intimates that his reason for resigning was the small compensation which attaches to the office. The Judge returns to his practice at the bar.

The Boise Statesman says that labor is in demand at Rocky Bar. The quartz mines of Alturas county will this summer employ five hundred men more than ever before.

On the 28th April a man named Wm Long, better known as Col. Long, was shot by Mike Goldman in a saloon at Idaho city and died in about two hours after. The statements of the affair indicate that the shooting was done in self defense.

Advices from Deadwood Basin are favorable. The mining claims pay ten dollars a day to the hand.

The Boise Democrat notes the arrival at that place of a train of nine wagons bound from Oregon back to "Old Pike."

The Owyhee Avalanche says the Superintendent of the Poorman is putting the mine in such a shape that it can be worked to better advantage than ever before. A splendid shaft is being sunk about three hundred feet north of the present hoisting works. It is now down about thirty feet and will be a magnificent piece of work when finished. The depth stipulated in the contract, we understand, is 140 feet. It is to be five feet two inches east and west and twelve feet north and south in the clear.

The Golden Chariot and several other mines are turning out much rich ore. Some new ledges are reported as lately discovered.

Gen. Washington's Last Vote.—The Father of his Country was conscientious in the discharge of every duty as a citizen, and never failed to vote. The last occasion of his doing so was in the spring of 1799, in the town of Alexandria. He died on the 14th of December following. The court house of Fairfax county was then over the old market house and immediately fronting Gadsby's tavern. The entrance into it was by a slight flight of crazy steps on the outside, and while the election was progressing several thousand persons being assembled around the polls, Washington drove up in his well known carriage. The crowd spontaneously gave way and made a lane for him to pass through as he approached the court house. A gentleman who was at Gadsby's door saw eight or ten good looking men immediately spring forward and follow the General up the steps, in order to uphold and support him if necessary. According to the custom of that time, the five or six candidates were sitting on the bench, who rose in a body and bowed profoundly on the entrance of Washington. Very gracefully returning their salutation the register of the polls said: "Well, General, how do you vote?" (it was then by viva voce). He looked at the candidates and replied "Gentlemen, I vote for measures, not for men," and having audibly pronounced his vote, he made another graceful bow and retired. He was loudly cheered by the outside crowd on returning to his carriage.

Archie and Tom sparking the same girl, near New Albany. One night Archie called on her and found her alone. After some conversation he burst out with: "Miss Mollie, do you think you could leave this comfortable home, kind father and mother, loving brothers and sisters, and go to the far West with a young man who has little to live on save his profession?" Miss Mollie laid her head gently on Archie's shoulder, with her eyes half closed, her ruby lips slightly ajar, and said softly: "Yes! Archie, I think I could." "Well," said Archie, "my friend Tom is going West, and wants to marry—I will mention it to him."

Among the letters said to have been showered upon A. J. is the following:

WHEATLAND, PENN, Feb 25th.

Proceed with caution—but proceed. Garrison Fort Sumpter, but do not provision it. Be cautious. Do not act with too much decision about things. Wait.

A THRILLING INCIDENT

In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls, in Burmah, is well told in the "Baptist Messenger," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Budhist high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how, while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels, which none but the high priest dare touch, and to even overturn and sit on one of their gods to rest; all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "fied medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer.—London Times.

Rev J. E. Clough, Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes:—"We esteem your Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."

Rev. J. D. Colburn, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes, "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." mid&wim

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—The Common Council met on Wednesday evening, May 5th, 1868—Mayor Chapman in the Chair.

The Board was called to order and the roll was called by the clerk.

Present—Councilmen Besser, Burch, Fechheimer, Hallock, Mulkey, Porter and Rosenheim—7.

Absent—Councilmen McCracken and Ripley—2.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A message was received and read from his Honor the Mayor, vetoing an ordinance for the improvement of —— St., &, and upon motion to pass the ordinance over the veto was lost.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES.

A petition from R. A. White, asking for the use of Front Street, at the corner of Morrison Street, for building purposes, thirty days, was read and the prayer granted. Also a petition was read from Moffit & Strowbridge, for the use of Front Street for thirty days for a like purpose, was granted.

A communication from Jacob Kamm, representing one hundred feet on Yamhill Street, asking that the said number of feet be placed on the remonstrance submitted last evening, which was read and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A remonstrance was received and read from School District No. 1, against the proposed improvement of Yamhill Street, and referred to the Committee on Public Property.

Also a remonstrance was read from F. M. Arnold and others against the proposed improvement of Salmon Street, representing 1700 feet, and was referred to the same Committee.

A remonstrance from J. P. Walker against the proposed improvement of Main Street, representing 900 feet, was read and referred to the same Committee.

A remonstrance from D. C. Coleman and others, against the proposed improvement of "C" Street, representing 1800 feet, was read and referred as above.

A remonstrance from John Brazee, against the proposed improvement of Stark Street, was read and referred to the above Committee.

A petition from James McKean, praying for a deduction of his city assessment $1850 was read and referred to the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the petition of A. Meir, praying for a deduction of his city assessment, the sum of $15, was reported favorably, and on motion the report was adopted.

The Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses, to whom was referred the petition of A. B. Richardson and others, praying for an appropriation of $1,000 for the purchase of fireworks for the 4th of July, reported adversely to the prayer for the reason that the Common Council had not provided for such an expenditure in levying the taxes for the fiscal year, and that the appropriation of the amount asked for could not be made without levying a special tax, but recommended that $250 be appropriated to aid in the celebration of the 4th. The report was read and adopted.

The Committee on Streets and Public Property, to whom was referred the ordinance relating to awning posts, reported a substitute, which was adopted for the original.

Same committee to whom was referred the petition of the O. C. R. R. Co., praying for permission to run a track through the streets of the city and for wharf privileges, reported by ordinance.

The same committee reported an ordinance declaring the probable cost of improving Front and Washington streets.

And the same committee reported that they had also received proposals for the improvement of "B," Front, Washington and Main streets, which was read and report adopted.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

Reports were received and read from the City Recorder and City Marshal, showing that the amount of moneys received and paid into the city treasury, from fines and fees, to be as follows: For the month of February, $35; March, $30 30; April, $65. On motion of Councilman Hallock, the reports were ordered placed on file.

A report from Geo. H. Belden, City Surveyor, relative to the survey of East Park street, was received and read, and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property, with instructions to report an ordinance in accordance with the report of the Surveyor.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

A bill of W. D. Carter, for printing 1,800 subpoenas for the use of the Recorder's and Marshal's offices, amounting to $14, was paid.

A bill of O. H. Meyers, amounting to the sum of $236, for lamp posts, material, labor and repairs, was read and referred, after some remarks, to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

PAY ROLL OF OFFICERS.

W. F. Caldwell, Auditor, $150; D. Jacobi, Marshal, [illegible]; D. Friedenrich, City Attorney, $75; Wm. McMillen, Street Commissioner, $15; J. Sloan and Jas. Parton, Deputy [illegible], each $100; Mrs. A. O'Connor, per aid account, $100; Portland Water Co., as per contract, $50; Geo. H. Belden, City Surveyor, T. W. Morris, Thos. Burk and C. Burch, Assistant Surveyors, bills to the amount of [illegible], was paid. Harlow & Thomas, for lighting and trimming off oil street lamps as per contract, $56 60; Portland Gas Light Co., for lighting 47 street lamps as per contract, $235 75, and for gas furnished the Council chamber for the month of April, $3 50; same, for gas furnished Multnomah Engine Co. No. 2, $26 20, and for gas furnished Protection Engine Co. No. 4, $31 85; J. M. Butler, cleaning offices and room, $8; Oregon Herald, for printing, $64, were paid.

READING OF ORDINANCES.

An ordinance relating to awning posts was read and passed.

An ordinance declaring the probable cost of improving Front street from Harrison to Hall streets, was read a first and second time.

An ordinance declaring the probable cost of improving Washington street from Front to Park streets, was read the first and second time.

An ordinance granting the right of way to the O. C. R. R. Co. to lay a single track through one of the back streets, &c., was read and laid over under the rules.

ENGROSSED ORDINANCES.

An ordinance to fix and establish the grade on Fourth street in the southern part of the city, was read and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

A resolution offered by Councilman Besser providing for giving notice of the intention of the Council to improve certain streets, was read and adopted.

A resolution offered by Councilman Hallock, authorizing the Street Commissioner to procure six dozen of the [illegible] burners and cause the same to be placed on [illegible] using gas, where needed, was read and adopted.

A resolution offered by the same member, authorizing the Committee on Streets and Public Property to loan Ladd & Tilton, bankers, the sum of $1,200 out of the [illegible] river fund at a rate of interest not less than [illegible] per cent per annum, to be subject to call when the same should be required, was read and adopted.

A resolution was offered by Councilman Hallock, and which was read and adopted, instructing the Committee on [illegible] to employ a suitable person to [illegible] the current at the mouth of the [illegible] river in view of future improvements.

MINING PROSPECTS.—Several times during the spring we have met and conversed with men from the mines of Willow Creek and other camps of Eastern Oregon and the general opinion expressed by all is that very little profitable mining can be done this season, on account of the scarcity of water. Mining prospects in the placer camps of Idaho seem to be equally depressed. The World of the 29th ult. says: "It would be folly to attempt concealment of the fact that this is the dullest season of [illegible] trade that has ever been experienced in this [illegible], and the present outlook is by no means encouraging. [illegible] trouble is not in the exhaustion or poverty [illegible]; it is the consequence of the unprecedented lack of water to work them. The winter just closed was the [illegible] in one respect ever known in Idaho, since the [illegible]. The temperature was as bitter cold as in any preceding winter, but the snow fall was greatly less, and this great treasury for the supply of water to the miners during the working season is unusually [illegible]. The larger streams which flow from the [illegible] and feed the numerous ditches, great and small, are already at a lower stage than they have usually been late in July, and of what is called "free water," which in previous seasons has continued from two to [illegible] months, there has been, comparatively speaking, [illegible] this season. This unparalleled scarcity of water [illegible] hundreds of miners to lay idle. Hundreds [illegible] already exhausted the supply of water for the [illegible] and only a few are likely to be favored with water [illegible] to work their claims through the ordinary [illegible] season." The Boise Statesman says: "We learn by a private letter from Pioneer City that water is growing scarce there, and many men are consequently out of employment. It is also the same at Granite creek. Men can be readily obtained for four dollars per day, [illegible]."

TELEGRAPH TO BOISE CITY.—The Oregon and Idaho [illegible] Co., having proposed to construct a line of [illegible] from Portland to Boise City, on condition that [illegible] along the proposed route should assist liberally, the Walla Walla Statesman responds in the following [illegible] of encouragement: "[illegible] bring the line to Walla Walla will cause a deflection of about fifty miles, at a cost of one hundred dollars per mile. The Telegraph Company propose that if Walla Walla will subscribe a sum sufficient to cover the additional [illegible], that they will bring their line here, and place us in telegraphic communication with all parts of the world. The telegraph would be a great convenience to our merchants and business men generally, and we think that with a little exertion the sum required can be raised. In these days, a town that is without telegraphs and without railroads, is out of the world, and fails to attract attention. Measures now afoot [illegible] that we shall soon have a railroad, and with that improvement it is every way desirable that we [illegible] the telegraph. With these two great levers of the [illegible] railroad and telegraph—Walla Walla, instead of [illegible] on the verge, will take her place in the centre of civilization, and enter upon a new era of prosperity. An agent of the Telegraph Company will visit Walla Walla shortly, and when he comes we trust that measures will be taken to bring the telegraph this way."

There is but little doubt but that all the towns along [illegible] will respond in like manner to the propositions of the Telegraph Company, and that the line will be built [illegible] the beginning of next winter.

A BEAUTIFUL SET OF VIEWS.—We think nobody can enter Shanahan's Art Gallery without admiring the sets of [illegible] of Columbia river scenery which grace the walls and show windows. Mr. Shanahan now has fifty views [illegible] size—of the most notable places along the Columbia and the Willamette rivers, and one hundred and twenty stereoscopic views. These are all accurate representations of localities which are well known to travelers on these rivers and adjacent mountains, and which have, thousands of times, awakened the wonder and unbounded [illegible] of the beholder. We cannot help but think that these views exhibited in the older States, would [illegible] instantly a better idea of the grand and the beautifully picturesque scenery of Oregon than volumes of detailed description. Mr. Watkins, in procuring and distributing these pictures over the world, has done a good thing for Oregon, while he has also, we hope, hit upon the foundation of a fortune for himself. The views may be procured of Mr. Shanahan with or without frames, as the purchaser may fancy, on quite reasonable terms. We acknowledge the very handsome present of a dozen of the choicest of the stereoscopic views.

IDLE MEN.—It is astonishing that while there is so great a demand for laborers on the railroads, there should be so many idle men in the city. About all the cheaper sort of hotels, may be seen any day, crowds of men—healthy and brawny looking fellows, too—who sit around, smoke, spin yarns and curse the "bloody country" because they haven't employment. Why they are here or what they expect in the way of employment, is an enigma. We are informed that the West side railroad contractors are hiring all good laborers who apply, and paying a reasonable salary per month with board included. Why do not these men go out on the road, if they want work? It is no fault of the "bloody country" that they are idle.

ANOTHER NEW STEAMER.—We learn that Capt. Smith at present in command of the Reno will yield the wheel to another, about the first of June, for the purpose of superintending the construction of another large steamer to run on the upper Willamette. She is to be a 150 ton with engines of great power—cylinders of 16 inch diameter and 5 foot stroke. Her length over all will be 155 feet, beam 22 feet, and depth of hold, 4 feet. We hear also that the Willamette Navigation Co. contemplate building, next fall, another boat to ply between Portland and Oregon City.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—In the U. S. District Court, the trial of A. B. Mercer and others was resumed and the greater part of the day was occupied in the taking of testimony by the prosecution. It is understood that the evidence, admissible, on behalf of the United States, is nearly or quite all in. The defence will open to-day.

H. F. Mulkey and D. C. McKinney were admitted to the bar of the court.

O. S. N. CO'S STEAMERS—CHANGE OF TIME.—Hereafter the steamers of the O. S. N. Co. will leave Celilo for Umatilla and Wallula every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4 o'clock A. M. A boat will leave Celilo for Lewiston every Friday at 5 o'clock A. M. Returning, the boats will leave Wallula every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, touching at Umatilla. This makes quite a different schedule of departures as compared with the old ones.

OREGON PRODUCTS.—Arrived yesterday per steamer Senator, 15 sacks oats, 1,580 qr sks flour, 1 bale woolen goods, and 1 pkge wool socks. Per steamer Reno, 285 sacks oats, 5 gunnies bacon, 142 qr sks flour, and 5 tons pig iron. Per steamer Alert, 202 bags wheat, 115 sacks oats, 101 qr sks flour and 4 cases woolen goods. Per Okanagan, 2,000 feet of lumber and 9 head of beef cattle. Per Cascade, 8 bales wool.

AN ADDITIONAL RESERVOIR.—The Portland Water Company is engaged in the construction of a new reservoir, of immense proportions, near the foot of Robinson's Hill. It will receive water direct from Marquam's creek. It is intended to have it finished as soon as practicable.

WASHINGTON GUARD'S PICNIC.—The committee appointed to select a place for holding the Annual Picnic of the Washington Guard, has selected a beautiful grove on Sauvie's Island. Wednesday, the 20th inst., is the day fixed upon by the company for the picnic.

SOCIAL AMENITIES.—On Tuesday evening Mr. W. W. Page presented Engine Company No. 3 with a fine steel engraving, handsomely framed, entitled "Noted Men of America." The company adopted a resolution of thanks for the favor.

DEMOCRATIC PRECINCT CANDIDATES.—On Tuesday evening, the Democrats of North Portland Precinct held a meeting and nominated for Justice of the Peace, John Orvis Waterman, and for Constable, H. N. Hudson.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The County Commissioners were yesterday engaged nearly the entire day in auditing accounts and adjusting claims against the county.

THE FIRST CLASS CLUB of Cardinell's Dancing Academy will meet this evening at the Hall, at 8 o'clock. Members are requested to be prompt.

NEW TELEGRAPH OFFICE.—A telegraph office has been opened at Cowlitz, W. T.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,
DENTIST.
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite F. J. Northrup & Co.'s Hardware Store.
I am now making, amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3, 186-, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.
N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.
N. B.—To strangers I would say that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea-Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less to all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 535 AND 537 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

Two Ways to Live on Earth.

There are two ways to live on earth—
Two ways to judge—to act—to view;
For all things here have double birth—
A right and wrong—a false and true

Give me the home where kindness seeks
To make that sweet which seemeth small;
Where every lip in fondness speaks
And every mind has care for all,

Whose minutes live in glad exchange
Of pleasures free from vain expense;
Whose thought beyond their meet ne'er ranges
Nor wise denials give offence

Who in a neighbor's fortune find
No wish—no impulse—to complain;
Who feels not—never felt—the mind
To envy yet another's gain

Who dream not of the mocking tide
Ambitious foiled endeavor meet—
The bitter pangs of wounded pride
Nor fallen Power that shuns the streets.

Though Fate deny its glittering store,
Love's wealth is still the wealth to shower;
For all that man can purchase more
Are sands it is no loss to lose

Some beings, whe[illegible] 'er they go
Find nought to please, or to exalt—
Their constant study but to show
Perpetual modes of finding fault.

While others in the [illegible] round
Of daily wants and daily care
Can yet cull flowers from common ground,
And twice enjoy the joy they share!

Oh! happy they who happy make—
Who, blessing, still themselves are blest!
Who something spare for others' sake,
And strive in all things for the best!

The Great Tale Maker.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune]

New York, April 7, 1868.

A member of one of the largest houses on Broadway sent m[illegible]ngers to purchase eighty tickets, for Dickens' last readings, for the [illegible] of the firm and their families, and for such of the employees as desired them Mr. Dolby had kindly ordered that six tickets and no more should be sold to each applicant personally appearing; this to prevent speculation. To secure the supply needed in this single house, therefore, a baker's dozen of employees must wait in line for half a day, and as they were not quite at the head of the line, they got no tickets after all. When the second sale was advertised, they were sent again, this time at four o'clock of a bitterly cold morning. At eight the window was raised and the sale began. The first of the deputation was the fifth man from the head of the column. Mr. Dolby had been good enough ("to avoid confusion") to omit the usual plan of the house, and had given notice that the desirable seats would be sold in the order of application The thirteen messengers hurried home with their dearly earned prizes, and, on examination, they were [illegible] to [illegible] seats in the second gallery.

The gentleman who had advanced $120 for this valuable assortment of chances, waited a day or two and learned through fellow-sufferers that Mr. Dolby explained it as "Aw, a demd good sell on the speculators, you know "

A few days later the $120 victim (call him Jones) addressed a note to Mr Dolby, detailing without show of temper the unfortunate error, enclosing the tickets, and suggesting that a check for their market value might be [illegible] by the bearer. It happened that Mr. Dolby was out, and the package was left with the office clerk at the hotel. The readings had not yet begun, and though no answer [illegible], Mr. Jones waited until they were over, and he had definitely ascertained that every ticket had been resold. He then said to an [illegible] who was a boarder at Mr. Dolby's hotel, "Be good enough to ascertain [illegible] Mr. Dolby himself whether he received my [illegible] and enclosures, and if so, find out, if you can without rudeness, what he means to do about it."

The interview was in this wise

Acquaintance. "By the way, Dolby, did you get a note from my friend Jones, returning a bunch of tickets about which there was some mistake?"

D. "Aw, yes, bleeve I did; friend [illegible] blasted ass."

A. "What!"

D. "Friend Jones blasted ass; tell him so for me, will you?"

A. "Certainly, Mr. Dolby, if you wish it; but—"

D. "Oblige me, particularly; tell 'm 'ees blasted ass."

Mr. Jones, being told, returns this message: "[illegible] Mr. Dolby my compliments, with [illegible] that my limited social culture forbids a [illegible] of the elegant phraseology in which his [illegible] message was couched; add, however, [illegible], and the only [illegible] which I desire at [illegible] to his [illegible] may perhaps [illegible] the crude American [illegible] In crude American [illegible]. If Mr. Dolby [illegible] $120 is not laid on my table [illegible] o'clock at noon to-morrow, I will [illegible] will sue him in the courts [illegible] the devil with him generally [illegible] scale [illegible] to its widest ex[illegible]

Dolby [illegible] it was given; [illegible] tenderly at the knob of his [illegible], and "blasted" a good many times, [illegible] despatched a messenger with the [illegible]; [illegible] himself, however, by soliloquizing aloud: "Aw! well, its the first of the [illegible] fools as has got any money back, [illegible] haw! haw!—wot lots of 'em has sent their tickets back!"

Thus of the servant, for whom of course the [illegible] is [illegible], though it be a servant [illegible] not the [illegible].

One equally neat and equally representative incident in which the Dickens himself figures:

During Mr. Dicken's stay in the city, the patriarch of American authors, William Cullen Bryant, wholly unmindful of the presumption moving him thereto, had the temerity to drive to Mr. Dicken's hotel, and from the general parlor to send up his card. It was but a moment till the servant brought it back with Mr. Dickens' personal assurance that he had no inclination to be disturbed, his invariable rule [illegible] he [illegible] having been and still being to see no one.

A week or two since the irrepressible journalists who are preparing this model gentleman a farewell testimonial dinner advised Mr. Bryant that he would, of course, be expected to pr[illegible]. The gentlest of eyes kindled in a moment, and the flowing beard waved a negative not to be misunderstood. The explanation was in quiet words, but they were these: "Mr. Dickens is capable of rudeness that cannot be overlooked."

Finally, a single fact of my own knowledge. Mr. Dickens is announced to read here next week, for the last time. I hear constant inquiries at my hotel (and it is the most aristocratic in the city), among ladies and gentlemen who read all the papers, when the tickets are to be sold. This evening I read in the Mail a "personal" card offering choice seats for Mr Dickens' readings next week

Let him that readeth understand Can Mr Dickens sail too soon?

Klamath Lake.—The Yreka Journal has the following:

We learn that there is a constant stream of emigration in to the Klamath Lake country, and that several farms have been taken up, and cultivated for the first time this Spring The Modocs and all the scattering Indians prowling about the country between this place and Fort Klamath are to be carraled on the reservation at the mouth of Martin or Sprague river. Nourse's ferry on Link river is doing a thriving business from the travel, and we understand another ferry is to be placed on Lost river shortly by C J Dorris, whose cattle are in that section. John Fairchilds, our Assemblyman, with a party of men proposes starting out this Summer on a prospecting tour to the base of the Blue Ridge, on the head of Martin's river, where there is undoubtedly good diggings The great trouble of prospecting this section is the fact of it being in the heart of the Snake Indians country which tribe have driven off every party that has yet attempted to mine in it Those who did prospect say they realized two bits to the pan, and found the entire country possessing every indication of rich placer and quartz diggings The object of prospecting this country is not only to find the precious metal in abundance, but also to secure if possible a new market for the surplus products of the country, and it is believed if an effort is made to prospect the country for gold, that it can not fail to create new settlements in every section of the Klamath and Goose Lake country.

The large penguins of the Antartic Ocean exhibit a curious peculiarity in the place of deposit of the single egg laid by them This, instead of being placed in a nest, as with other birds, is held between the legs and feathers of the belly, and transported by the bird wherever it goes until hatched

SOOTHING AND BRACING—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere

SHIPLEY'S PATENT PACIFIC

TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

OF WHICH THE ABOVE IS AN ILLUSTRATION, has FOUR SETS OF BUCKETS, AND USES THREE-FOURTHS OF THE WATER TWICE.

The old high priced, unequalled and unrivalled wheel has been PLAYED OUT by a fair working trial made by Mr H Kelly, at his saw mill, and the public can see what he says as to the capacity of the two wheels in the following testimonial over his own signature:

Mr. H. W. Shipley Sir In reply to your inquiry as to how I like your Pacific Turbine Wheel, I have to say that I have used one over shot and three Leffel wheels—10, 13 and 15 inch diameter. When I substituted your 15 inch wheel for the 15 inch Leffell wheel, though unfinished, it worked the machinery like a top, using 52 ft of water per minute more than the 13 inch Leffell. At your request I subsequently took your wheel out that it might be finished, and then I put in a 15 inch Leffel, but it gave no better power than yours while it used 52 cubic feet more water, per minute After some months, I replaced your wheel and am still using it with the most satisfactory results. I have subjected it to some severe tests For instance while running the circular saw in a log which squared 15 inches, I added the planer with a 9 inch knife, cutting from one eighth to one-fourth of an inch depth, without in the least slacking the speed. After thorough tests of both wheels I am satisfied that your wheel with gate one-eighth of an inch open gives as much power as the Leffell with gates one-third open At half gate your wheel gives double the power of the Leffel at half gate. At full gate, the power of yours exceeds that of the Leffel, by from ten to twelve per cent, At quarter gate, the Leffel holds no comparison with yours at quarter gate.

N B Mr Shipley was not present at either of the trials of his wheel, he being sick at the first, and absent from the State, at the second trial

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrid life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco Quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers newspaper carriers Intelligence office keepers, etc Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten, are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco Post Office Box 252

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

- CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE
- CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
- IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so unl[illegible] subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible]tive; but the desire to point out to those who [illegible]guish and decay the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. [illegible] tended the terrible disease of Seminal W[illegible] one but the practical specialist who devot[illegible] his treatment can tell, but its presence can be [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the [illegible] toms, Weakness of the back and limbs; [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power; nerv[illegible] cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head; [illegible] of consumption, short breath, flushings of the [illegible] sion to society, confu[illegible] of the [illegible], loss of nightly emissions; colorless; slight [illegible] least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the [illegible] regular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you exp[illegible]ce any of the [illegible] symptoms enumerated above, [illegible] present is the [illegible] moment in which you [illegible] health and happiness You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of self-[illegible] SLIGHTEST DEGREE, you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their [illegible] will [illegible] or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength [illegible] ground, leaving you a helpless, [illegible] It is [illegible] case that declares itself at once. [illegible] est danger; for while the patient is [illegible] affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or [illegible] tions, he sinks into a [illegible] debility that soon [illegible] to the list of the victims of the terrible [illegible] Weakness.
